A Day at Week in the Woods

An early morning rise and something hot to drink around the fire.
Time to gear up for the day ahead.

Working on the spring pole lathe after breakfast.

Pretty soon a friend wants to learn how!

Next task of the day: a birch bark stool.

Nailing on the birch bark seat of his stool.

A break from work and lively discussion.

Last bit of work for the day, checking up on his ship.

Dinner time! Tonight's meal: roasted corn and lots of good company.
